

Medication Support at Home

I feel so guilty that I'm not there to help Dad

Dad was always there for me.

But how I can be there for him when I am a hundred miles away? It makes me feel so guilty.

I want to put a caring arm around him and help him through each challenge that his dementia brings.

Well, I have found a solution which allows me to give my dad all the support he needs, even when I'm so far away.

The Medication Support at Home service has changed my dad's life (and mine).

The Medication Support at Home service is an award-winning medication monitoring service, born in the NHS, and developed in local authority adult social, care teams.

Now my dad's medication is all taken care of.

- ✓ He receives support, guidance, and advice from qualified and registered pharmacy professionals, who can see what medicines my dad is taking and can intervene if necessary.
- ✓ They manage all the hassle of the monthly repeat prescriptions, making our lives so much better and organised.
- ✓ They also deal with any medication problems and worries that arise during the month, and will even liaise with the GP practice on our behalf.

I am reassured to know Dad is in trusted, professional, and friendly hands and relieved not to have the terrible responsibility of setting up his medicines four times a day.

The service has made changed both of our lives, making Dad more independent and confident around his medicines, and me at peace with myself.

The cost of our standard service is £11.74 per day.
